Introduction

This training program is designed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of how to leverage social media and other digital channels for outreach and engagement around CBDCs. The program aims to equip participants with the skills and knowledge needed to develop and execute effective digital currency outreach strategies.

Target audience

The program is intended for professionals in the financial and technology sectors, including government officials, policymakers, central bank staff, and industry leaders. It is also suitable for communication professionals, marketing and advertising experts, and social media managers who want to expand their knowledge of digital currency outreach for CBDCs.

Objectives

The program aims to achieve the following objectives:

- Understand the role of social media and other digital channels in digital currency outreach.
- Develop effective digital currency outreach strategies that leverage social media and other digital channels.
- Identify key stakeholders and target audiences and develop communication plans and strategies tailored to their needs.
- Develop a strong brand identity and messaging for a CBDC project.
- Evaluate the effectiveness of digital currency outreach strategies and adjust plans as needed.

Methodology

The training program will use a mix of lectures, case studies, and interactive exercises to facilitate learning. Participants will have access to relevant resources, including social media guidelines, communication guidelines, and industry reports. The program will also provide an opportunity for participants to develop and present a digital currency outreach plan.

Competencies

By the end of the program, participants will have developed the following competencies:

- Understanding of the role of social media and other digital channels in digital currency outreach for CBDCs.
