Introduction

In today is fast-paced, high-stakes business environment, new opportunities may present themselves at any moment, and executives must be prepared to negotiate. Effective negotiation skills can make the difference between a favorable or detrimental outcome for your organization. In this program, you ill learn how to negotiate with influence to achieve more value while maximizing the benefits for your organization.

"Typically, we think of negotiations in the dramatic context of the highest-stakes situations: geopolitical conflicts, corporate acquisitions, or large monetary deals. While negotiations are critical in those instances, we often don't realize that even our most routine daily interactions are negotiations," says Professor John Burrows, the program's Faculty Director.

Course Objectives

- Gain advanced strategies to negotiate with influence and prepare for success.
- Explore your individual negotiation style and how hidden psychological biases may shape outcomes.
- Learn how cultural and cross-border differences can influence negotiations significantly.
- Understand different strategic choices and interpersonal skills that drive success to create win-win scenarios.
