Introduction

This seminar brings together the key strategic leadership skills of strategic planning, negotiation and conflict management required to succeed in today's complex and challenging business environment.

'Strategy' is as it says in the classic text 'the art of war', complex yet when understood very simple, those who have a successful strategy are in control of the upcoming events.

The implementation of strategies often requires the ability to exert influence and negotiate effectively. Negotiation is not litigation, neither is it war. Negotiation is not about obtaining total victory. Total victory by one party tends to be short-lived. Negotiation and conflict management are key strategic management and leadership skills and are probably the single most used skills in business today.

This seminar will enable you to:

- Challenge your preconceptions about strategic planning, negotiation and conflict management;
- Understand the content of strategy - unraveled, demystified and translated into everyday language;
- Learn how to implement the strategic planning process and get real value out of the process,
- Learn how to analyze the much-misunderstood concept of win-win negotiation;
- Obtain the essential tools and practical skills for the planning and management of the negotiation and conflict process, thereby developing the ability to negotiate value-creating solutions.

The seminar is split into two modules:

MODULE I - Strategy and Strategic Planning

MODULE II - Negotiation and Conflict Management in Organisations

Each module is structured and can be taken as a stand-alone course; however, delegates will maximize their benefits by taking Module 1 and 2 back-to-back as a two-week seminar.

Training Methodologies

The training process is based on a carefully planned mix of succinct tutor input with the practical illustration of tools and concepts, group work on case studies some are video-based, role-play exercises with feedback, self-assessment questionnaires, and group discussion to develop the themes around participants' own experiences and needs. Team involvement and working enable a strategy to be created from start to finish.
