Introduction

Alliances in business are a natural route for development - but not all contracting relationships can truly be seen as alliances. A good, trusting and open relationship is essential for a long-term and successful alliance - and this needs to be practiced by the negotiators involved.

Negotiation is inevitably at the heart of every process to achieve what you want, whether in an agreement, bargaining for an item or closing a deal. At the end of each negotiation, the goal is to seek a win/win outcome - an essential characteristic of long-lasting alliances.

This seminar provides an essential framework for effective negotiation which will be vital for building and exploiting an alliance - from building the relationship, critical thinking to prioritize goals and awareness of possible ploys you may encounter along the way.
