Training Course: IOSH Managing Safely

Training Course code: HE7007 From: 5 - 9 May 2025 Venue: Liverpool (UK) - Training Course Fees: 5775 € Euro

Introduction

Safety is not just the responsibility of the safety specialist; it is a fundamental aspect of all management disciplines. No less than a construction manager, an office manager is in charge of the team's safety. Both the law and corporate policy are equally applicable. The course won't convert participants into safety experts, but it will give them a better understanding of the challenges surrounding safety and the options they have for ensuring that safety is applied in their workplaces. After all, a manager must ensure that no one is in danger on the job and that there are no illnesses or accidents among the staff. Managers will be able to assess the safety of their departmental systems and introduce additional controls or make adjustments as appropriate to ensure safety in the workplace.

Upon successful completion of the course delegates should be able to:

- Implement workplace precaution hierarchies
- Identify data and techniques required to produce an adequate record of an incident
- Prepare and use active monitoring checklists
- Explain the parts of a recognized Safety Management System
- Implement environmentally friendly systems
