Introduction

The BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT training course examines the creation of long-term business growth in three distinct stages.

1. First, in the pre-sales stage, you'll learn to understand your business model, your position in the market, and new and existing customers and products.
2. Second, in the pitch stage of business development, you'll learn effective business pitching skills, enabling you to develop persuasive presentations, gain the negotiation skills required to close deals, explore how communication can mitigate conflict resolution, and establish and maintain business relationships.
3. The final modules of the course will help you to develop account management and program management skills for sustainable post-pitch success.

Upon completion, you'll walk away with the ability to compile a business development plan, strategically analyze change, and anticipate new business opportunities.
