Training Course: Administrative Assistant Specialist

Training Course code: OM234893 From: 15 - 19 December 2025 Venue: London (UK) - Landmark Office Space - Portman Street Training Course Fees: 5500 € Euro

Introduction

What does an administrative assistant do? The administrative assistant is a diverse role needed by almost every office to perform a variety of clerical and administrative tasks. There is an array of support tasks that have to be executed promptly and order to ensure coordination among the fundamental business functions.

Administrative Assistants may work on a one-on-one basis with the executives, high-ranking officials, and managers or may work for a particular team, project, or department. Their job is to handle different interrelated interactions between the organization and its employees to ensure coordination and productivity.

Course Objectives

- Develop organizational skills within the participant with a view of utilizing organizational resources to the optimum
- Prepare participants to be active in situations of stress with a problem-solving mindset along with a creative approach
- Inculcate within the participants the basics of routine tasks such as answering phone calls, taking notes, arranging meetings, etc.
- Preparing participants for specialized job responsibilities specific to certain industries such as Administrative Assistants to financial officials will be required to understand the basics of accounting and financial management, reading financial reports, gathering financial data, and so on
- Release the Executives and managers from the burden of cumbersome tasks that don't involve personal interference of the manager and thus allow them to focus on the most important jobs as the support tasks would be taken care of by the administrative assistants
- To develop the participant into a person who acts as a connecting link between the manager and the rest of the organization

Methodology

- Interactive sessions and lectures
- Presentations
- Management games
