Introduction

This seminar is designed to provide practicing or potential leaders with the knowledge and skills required by the role. This leadership program enables your leaders to critically explore the key idea that the most important function of a leader is to help their people move through the stages of team development.

It will cover all the critical competencies necessary for ineffective leadership. It runs like a 5-day Leadership master class.

The highlights of this seminar are:

- Communicate effectively throughout the organization
- Balance the conflicting priorities of a leadership role
- Avoiding getting stuck in "management" functions
- Solve problems and make decisions in a structured way
- Adapt your leadership style to any situation
- Achieve results through your team

Objectives

By the end of this program you will be able to:

- To understand the wide range of skills required of the leader
- To develop further the individual's key skills
- To build confidence and ability in leadership skills
- To understand the impact of change on teams
- To develop communication skills
- To generate a strategy for improvement of these key skills in each team member through coaching and mentoring

Methodology

The seminar is based on a combination of interactive activities - group and individual exercises, case studies, and discussions - along with formal delivery of the latest theory and thinking.

The environment will be a supportive one in which individuals with varying degrees of experience will be encouraged to share the approaches they currently use as well as try out new ones that they encounter in the seminar. The seminar leader will be on hand to answer any questions a delegate may have and to act as a facilitator for building and applying new approaches. We aim for this to be enjoyable as well as a learning experience and feel that the mix of style and learning techniques will prove valuable to those that attend.
