Training Course: The Contracts & Project Management MBA

Training Course code: PC1916 From: 17 - 21 November 2025 Venue: Amsterdam (Netherlands) - Grand Hotel Amrâth
Amsterdam Training Course Fees: 5500 € Euro

Introduction:

Organizations that master best practices in project and contract management can reap benefits such as increased productivity and reduced costs. This 5-day training program, designed by Global Horizon Training Center, to provide both practical and strategic insights into project and contract management, covering critical areas such as project planning and administration, contractor selection and negotiation, project and contract risk identification, team selection and performance measurement.

Objectives:

The training program aims to equip participants with essential skills and knowledge, including how to:

- Define project outcomes and manage uncertainty
- Understand different contract types and transfer risk effectively
- Develop negotiation skills to meet organizational objectives
- Set up and operate disciplines required to monitor and control projects
- Analyze contractor price and cost and select the best team

Training Methodology:

Participants will learn through a combination of lectures by experienced practitioners, individual and group exercises, reviewing published articles, checklists, and group discussions. A comprehensive course manual will also be provided, and attendees will be encouraged to present problems for discussion on a confidential basis.

Organizational Impact:

Organizations will benefit from better-trained personnel leading and guiding the contracting and project process, improvements in the performance of contractors, and increased alignment of project results with the organization's goals.

Personal Impact:

Attendees will gain mastery in managing project and contract activities, improved negotiation skills, and greater confidence in leading, planning, and managing the entire project and contract process. Participants will also receive increased recognition by their organization, leading to potential advancement and increased job satisfaction.
