Conference: Job Evaluation & Analysis (Certified Job Analyst)

Conference code: CO8167 From: 12 - 16 May 2025 Venue: London (UK) - Landmark Office Space - Oxford Street
Conference Fees: 6000 € Euro

Introduction

Success in the business world begins with applying discipline to your life and actions, fostering personal effectiveness and professional excellence. As S. N. Bremer emphasized, self-mastery is the cornerstone of self-development, and Aldous Huxley highlighted that improving yourself transforms your universe. Your self-image acts as a blueprint, shaping your actions and achievements, as Denis Waitley noted, emphasizing the power of internal growth over external circumstances. This conference aims to instill discipline, positivity, and motivation to help you unlock your full potential and achieve success.

Objectives

- Understand job analysis and evaluation techniques
- Understand the stages involved in a job analysis and job evaluation project
- Undertake and apply a variety of techniques to analyze and evaluate specific jobs
- Apply the results of job evaluation to design and develop a pay and grading structure
- Develop and apply different compensation systems to pay and grading structures to reflect organizational culture.
- Examine different ways to implement the above processes

Methodology

The learning approaches applied during the conference will involve the practical application of job evaluation techniques. Participants will work on an individual and group basis to analyze job profiles and evaluate them applying both non-analytical and analytical job evaluation schemes. The course will involve the development of a pay and grading structure and the compensation systems that can augment these structures.

Organizational Impact

- Pay and grading structures will be appropriate and aligned with organizational objectives
- Managers and HR professionals will have the necessary skills and knowledge to maintain pay and grading structures
- Organization will be competitive in the market place in relation to having the right pay and grading structures
- Organizations will be able to attract and retain the people they need to be successful

- Having appropriate, competitive and well-maintained pay and grading structures will result in employees feeling valued and motivated
- Organizations will have managers and HR professionals who are aware of the need to control the cost of pay and grading structures and the knowledge to maintain such structures within affordable limits.

Personal Impact

- Acquire knowledge and understanding of job analysis and job evaluation
- Understand a variety of different job evaluation techniques
- Understand how job evaluation contributes to the development, design, and implementation of a pay and grading structure
- Be able to make a strategic contribution to the organization in the area of pay and grading
- Be able to advise senior management or the directors of the organization of the value of different approaches to employee compensation
- Understand how different approaches to employee compensation can impact on employee motivation and organizational performance
