Training Course: Integrated Rural Development Certified Training

Training Course code: MA235909 From: 24 - 28 November 2025 Venue: London (UK) - Training Course Fees: 5500 € Euro

Introduction:

In today's rapidly changing world, rural areas face a unique set of developmental challenges and opportunities. Integrated Rural Development IRD is a holistic approach that focuses on combining economic, social, environmental, and institutional strategies to uplift rural communities. This certified training program is designed by Global Horizon Training Center to equip professionals with the necessary tools and strategies to plan, implement, and manage rural development initiatives that are sustainable, inclusive, and impactful.

Participants will explore key components of rural development including agriculture, infrastructure, education, health, gender inclusion, environmental sustainability, and local governance. The program blends theoretical foundations with practical case studies to foster real-world application and strategic thinking.

Objectives:

By the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Understand the principles and practices of integrated rural development.
- Identify and analyze rural development needs using participatory and data-driven approaches.
- Design and implement sustainable development strategies tailored to local contexts.
- Promote inclusive growth and strengthen community participation in development efforts.
- Coordinate multi-sectoral interventions and align them with national and global development agendas e.g., SDGs.
- Evaluate and monitor rural development programs for impact and scalability.

Course Methodology:

- Interactive lectures and expert presentations
- Group discussions and breakout workshops
- Case studies from global rural development models
- Simulations and role-playing exercises
- Action planning for participants' real-life challenges
- Q&A sessions with sector specialists
