Training Course: Workforce Planning and Recruitment

Training Course code: HR3015 From: 29 June - 3 July 2026 Venue: Geneva (Switzerland) - Training Course Fees: 6050 € Euro

Introduction

This advanced training program, designed by Global Horizon Training Center, provides a comprehensive understanding of the modern manpower planning cycle, now widely recognized as Human Resource Planning (HRP)—one of the fastest-growing and most strategic functions in today's HR landscape.

Organizations increasingly rely on workforce planning to align human capital with long-term business strategy. This program equips participants with the advanced skills, tools, and analytical approaches required to forecast workforce needs, optimize organizational structures, and enhance productivity through data-driven decision-making.

Participants will explore cutting-edge methodologies including predictive analytics, organizational design, workforce ratios, and business process re-engineering. The program also emphasizes the integration of HR data, software tools, and strategic models to support proactive workforce planning and improve organizational agility.

By the end of the program, participants will have the capability to design, implement, and manage effective workforce planning systems that deliver measurable business value and high return on investment.

Objectives

By the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Apply the modern linear strategic model for workforce planning
