Training Course: Smart Leadership: Achieving Strategy through Leadership and Innovation

Training Course code: LS1012 From: 5 - 9 July 2026 Venue: Doha (Qatar) - Training Course Fees: 4725 € Euro

Introduction

In today's competitive global marketplace, innovation is the cornerstone of success. As organizations face increasing automation of routine tasks and dynamic market environments, creativity and innovation play pivotal roles in driving business success. Innovation allows organizations to introduce new ideas, products, and services that offer a competitive edge over rivals. As leaders, it is essential to create an environment that nurtures creativity and innovation while overcoming the natural resistance to change that arises in organizations.

This program is designed to equip leaders with the skills and strategies needed to foster innovation within their teams and organizations. By integrating creativity into the strategic framework, leaders can take their organizations to the next level, driving growth, efficiency, and differentiation. The program focuses on the processes, tools, and leadership strategies that can inspire and manage innovation, leading to actionable results and competitive advantage.

Objectives

By the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Set creativity and innovation within a strategic context to align them with organizational goals.
- Identify the key drivers for emphasizing creativity and innovation in business.
- Recognize the processes and activities that support creativity and innovation in organizations.
- Apply strategies, tools, and techniques to boost creativity and innovation within their teams.
- Understand how change processes can either block or enable employees to embrace innovation.
- Develop the leadership skills necessary to create an environment where creativity and innovation can thrive.
