Training Course: HR Metrics and Analytics

Training Course code: HR234850 From: 25 October - 5 November 2026 Venue: Sharm El-Sheikh (Egypt) - Sheraton Sharm Hotel Training Course Fees: 6550 € Euro

Introduction

The Human Resources function has evolved into a high-value strategic partner that directly influences organizational performance, competitiveness, and long-term sustainability. As organizations increasingly recognize the importance of human capital, HR must move beyond administrative responsibilities and adopt a data-driven, evidence-based approach to decision-making.

This program is designed to equip HR professionals with the ability to measure, analyze, and interpret HR data, transforming insights into strategic actions. Participants will explore how HR metrics and analytics can be used to evaluate organizational performance, influence corporate strategy, and drive meaningful change.

By integrating analytics, human capital theory, and strategic HR practices, this program enables HR professionals to become proactive leaders who anticipate challenges, optimize workforce performance, and contribute directly to business success.

Program Objectives

By the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Apply evidence-based HR decision-making frameworks
- Design and implement HR metrics and analytics systems
- Conduct problem analysis and data-driven assessments
- Identify and evaluate strategic HR decision options
- Measure the impact of HR initiatives on organizational performance
- Understand and apply human capital measurement models
- Calculate and interpret HR ROI and performance indicators
- Integrate HR analytics into organizational strategy and planning
- Drive and manage organizational change using HR insights
