Training Course: Uniform System of Accounting for Lodging Industries

Training Course code: FI234709 From: 18 - 22 October 2026 Venue: Manama (Bahrain) - Training Course Fees: 4725 € Euro

Introduction

Hotel information must be organized and reported consistently. It gives you a robust and practical framework for assessing how your hotel is performing and comparing your results to others in the sector. It will teach you the concept of food and revenue and the structure of profit and loss statements for the hotel industry's food and beverage department, as specified by the USALI. You will learn about the food and department expenses and statistics and explore how to analyze profit and loss and resources.

Objectives

- Understand the structure and reporting standards of hotel financial information based on USALI.
- Develop the ability to analyze hotel Profit & Loss statements for Rooms and Food & Beverage departments.
- Learn how to evaluate hotel performance using key revenue streams and departmental expenses.
- Gain knowledge of room revenue segmentation including transient, group, contracts, and other revenue sources.
- Understand food and beverage cost structures, labour costs, and operating expenses.
- Master hotel industry performance statistics and occupancy-related calculations.
- Learn how to interpret hotel operating structure, including profit centers and support centers.
- Develop skills in analyzing fixed and variable costs and their impact on profitability.
- Enhance the ability to use financial data to assess resources and operational efficiency in hotels.
- Apply USALI-based metrics to evaluate profitability by department and venue.
